

SAFETY INFORMATION

W-01a-1

AUTOGENOUS WATER-BASED VACCINES

MANUFACTURER	Aqua Health Ltd. Prince Edward Island, Canada
RECOMMENDED USE	As an aid in the prevention of the disease caused by the isolate indicated on the label.
PACKAGING	1000 mL plastic bottles with metal closures and rubber stoppers
METHOD OF USE	Immersion or Injection
APPROVAL	Can Vet Bio Est Lic No. 28 Product Lic. # 910AG/B1.0/A8 USDA Vet. Permit no. 335 Product Code: 2051.00
HAZARDOUS INGREDIENTS	Bacterial endotoxin, Formalin
RISKS	Low risk from ingestion or eye contact; moderate risk from injection
SAFETY PRECAUTIONS	Avoid ingestion or eye contact. If vaccine is accidentally injected, take precautions against localised sepsis and report the incident immediately to the safety officer. If swelling or redness is not localised to the area of injection, Seek medical attention without delay. Note: In rare cases, anaphylaxis (shock) may occur in individuals hyper-sensitive to gram-negative bacteria following accidental injection of product. Prior to use of the product, operators should seek medical advice relating to the recognition and immediate treatment in the case of anaphylaxis. Epinephrine or an equivalent drug should be available for immediate use following these instances. It is recommended that pregnant or suspected pregnant women avoid vaccination. It is unknown whether accidental injection will harm mother or unborn child.

STORAGE	Store at 2-7°C (35-45°F); DO NOT FREEZE.
ACTION IN CASE OF SPILLAGE	Mop and wash the area of the spill.
FLAMMABILITY	Not Flammable
TRANSPORT REGULATIONS	Avoid exposure of the goods to temperatures in excess of 30°C (86°F).
DISPOSAL	Use the entire contents of bottle when opened; dispose of surplus vaccine in accordance with local waste disposal regulations and/or requirements.
HARMFUL EFFECTS/FIRST AID	EYES: Irritant/irrigate thoroughly with water. INJECTION: Mild to moderate reaction to bacterial endotoxin or the adjuvant, if swelling or redness occurs SEEK MEDICAL ATTENTION IMMEDIATELY. INHALATION: None Known. SKIN: None known/wash affected area.
ADDITIONAL INFORMATION	Vaccine is a formalin inactivated, whole-cell bacterin containing no live organisms.
FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT	Aqua Health Ltd. 37 McCarville St. Charlottetown, PE, C1E 2A7 Canada Tel: (902)566-4966 Fax: (902)566-3573
DATE	April 24, 2002